The Ninth Conference for Librarians in the Criminal Justice System is scheduled to be held in Canberra from May 11-13 this year. In this issue of the Australian Criminology Information Bulletin we are including some news about the Conference and some of the initial feedback and suggestions that have resulted from our call for papers and expressions of interest.

By mid January the Institute has received more than 20 responses and expressions of interest. These have come from five States, the Northern Territory, the Australian Capital Territory, New Zealand and Papua New Guinea. I hope that our final registrations show the same broad geographic spread.

John Myrtle

Ninth Criminal Justice Librarians' Conference

The Conference venue will be the Lake Michigan Room, Lakeside Hotel, Canberra. The Lakeside is located adjacent to the Institute's Criminology Building which will be of particular benefit during the Conference in providing ready access to the Institute's J V Barry Library and in assisting with Conference demonstrations.

Conference Topics

In the form calling for expressions of interest for the Conference, we requested advice on topics and issues that people wish to see addressed at the Conference. The following is a summary of the responses.

Communications and Document Delivery

- International networking, including the use of AARNet and the INTERNET
- The use of ILANET
- The future of information services with access to sources such as AARNet and CD-ROMs
- The use of document delivery services such as UNCOVER

Resources

- What's new in CD-ROMs and databases for criminal justice librarians
- Crime and criminal justice statistics

Management

- User pay services
- Strategic planning
- Promotion and marketing of services
- Managing information resources in times of economic restraint
- Training end users in the use of information resources

Criminal Justice

- Prison library services
- Work of the Australian Institute of Criminology in homicide monitoring, monitoring deaths in custody, and the National Child Protection Clearing House

We appreciate the interest of all those who have contributed suggestions up to this time. We will make every effort to address these interests in the Conference program.

Special Interest Groups

One of the criticisms of the previous Conference was that we did not provide an opportunity for special interest groups such as police or corrections librarians to meet in break-out groups. This time we will be making provision for these meetings in the Conference program. To assist the planning process, we need feedback on the requirements of groups and to this end we have asked a number of people to act as conveners of special interest groups. Malcolm Cram has agreed to convene the police librarians' group and Estelle Vincent, the corrections group.

If there is a requirement for other groups, please contact John Myrtle at the Institute.

Police librarians should contact:

Mr Malcolm Cram
Chief Librarian
NSW Police Service
NSW Police Academy
McDermott Drive
Goulburn NSW 2580
Phone: (048) 232 551
Fax: (048) 232 514

Corrections Librarians should contact:

Ms Estelle Vincent
Senior Librarian
South Australian Dept of Correctional Services
GPO Box 1747
Adelaide SA 5001
Phone: (08) 226 9135
Fax: (08) 226 9160

Library Visits

Feedback from the expressions of interest forms indicated most interest in visiting the following libraries:

- Australian Institute of Criminology (not much difficulty with this one!)
- National Library of Australia

- Law libraries (in particular, Attorney-General's Lionel Murphy Library and the High Court)
- Australian Federal Police

NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research

The NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research has moved. Their new street address is:

Level 8, St James Centre
111 Elizabeth St
Sydney NSW 2000

Their postal address (no change) is:

GPO Box 6
Sydney NSW 2001

Phone: (02) 231 9160
Fax: (02) 231 9187

Women's Research and Policy

The Australian Institute for Women's Research and Policy is a new institute formed to promote the work and interests of academics researching gender issues; policy practitioners in the area of women's issues; and members of the community interested in the lives of Australian women.

The Institute has issued a preliminary call for expressions of interest in joining a Working Group on Gender and Violence. The purpose of establishing the Group is to bring together researchers whose work is concerned with issues such as domestic violence, rape, incest and child abuse, protection and policing, women, violence and the law, violence and questions of gendered social and political relations and citizenship.

Family Thesaurus

Australian Family and Society Abstracts, otherwise known as the Family Database, covers research, policy and practice literature about Australian families and the social issues that impact on them. The Family Database which is produced by the Australian Institute of Family Studies, is available through the National Library's OZLINE Service and also on CD-ROM as part of the AUSTROM disc.

The Australian Institute of Family Studies has just released the 4th edition of the Family Thesaurus which is available for purchase for $35 (including postage within Australia). Contact:

Forthcoming Conferences and Meetings

Australian Institute of Criminology Conference Program Outline

The following are intended dates and locations for forthcoming Australian Institute of Criminology Conferences.

- 9–11 February 1994. Crime Against Business. Venue: The Novotel, Melbourne, VIC. In 1992, crime cost the Australian business community over $4 billion. This conference will focus on crimes perpetrated against business and strategies to deal with such crimes. Aims of the conference: 1. To develop an understanding of the incidence and costs of crimes against business. 2. To develop strategies to reduce the incidence of crimes against business and make businesses more profitable. 3. To develop an understanding of the roles of different organisations working together to fight crimes against business.
- 13–15 April 1994. Preventing Youth Crime: The Challenge Beyond Diversion (held in conjunction with the Juvenile Justice Advisory Council of NSW). Venue: Holiday Inn, Terrigal, NSW. There has been considerable interest and some success in recent years in attempts to divert young offenders from the juvenile courts through informal processes. To complement these moves towards the selective use of the formal justice system and to contain the costs involved, we also need to explore initiatives which are likely to prevent or minimise the commission of crime in the first place. Aims of the conference: 1. To raise awareness and discussion of issues which impact on youth crime. 2. To consider alternative methods of preventing, or minimising youth crime. 3. To encourage the participation of government, community-based and private sector organisations in cooperative ventures aimed at preventing youth crime.
- 11–13 May 1994. 9th Conference for Librarians in the Criminal Justice System. Canberra, ACT.
- 14–17 June 1994. Aboriginal Justice Issues II. Townsville, QLD. At present the format and content of the conference is open. However, it is expected that topics will fall under broad headings such as the following and provide for formal presentations and workshops: The Mabo decision, community crime prevention initiatives, women's issues, juvenile justice, Aboriginal/police relations, preventing family violence, and judicial issues
- 20–22 July 1994. Access to Justice. Sydney, NSW.
- September (late) 1994. Safety in Public Places. Gold Coast, QLD.
- 18–21 October 1994. Sentencing. Brisbane, QLD.
- 22–25 November 1994. Family Violence. Canberra, ACT.
